Reception to Confederate Veterans.

Mrs. R. C. Webb, president of the R. E. Lee Chapter, Daughters of the R. E. Lee Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, gave a delightful reception to the members of Camp Stephen D. Lee, United Confederate Veterans, on New Year's afternoon. Quite a number of the veterans were present, and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Webb's home was draped in red and white bunting, and palms and ferns lent an additional charm to the scene. Mrs. S. Bleckley welcomed the veterans in an appropriate address. Her words were hearty priate address. Her words were hearty and sincere, and the address was much appreciated by the old soldiers. Col. J. N. Brown and Hon. G. F. Tolly responded on behalf of the veterans, and made happy little speeches After this an entertaining program was carried out. It consisted of vocal selec-tions by Mrs. Fred B. Maxwell, Miss-Lucy Barton, Mrs. William Laughlin and Mrs. J. R. Vandiver, and an in-strumental selection by Miss Bessie Bee. The guests were then taken into the dining room where they were served with refreshments. Theh. was given a dainty sonvenir consisting of a spray of laurel tied with Confederate colors. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by the veterans, and they were highly appreciative of the honor shown them by Mrs. Webb.

Married in Greenville.

The Greenville Herald, of December 26th, 1903, contains the following account of the marriage of a young lady who formerly lived in this County and who is a daughter of the late D. D.

Gentry:
Last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha J. Gentry, on Choice Avenue, a beautiful home wedding occurred which united in matrimony Willis Vincent Austin and Miss Carrie Wigsbath Centre

The parlor and reception rooms were beautifully decorated in white and green, and just before the appointed hour were filled with invited

Promptly at 8 o'clock the beautiful strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march played by Miss Leila Cowsert hushed the guests and turned all eyes expectant toward the door. First en-tered Rev. W. P. Holland, the officialing minister and uncle of the bride; then followed the maid of honor, Miss Eva Gentry, sister of the bride, and the best man, W. F. Griffin; then came the lovely bride on the arm of the handsome groom. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive.

The bride was daintily gowned in white organdy and carried an elegant bouquet of white carnations and maid-en hair ferns. The maid of honor were a handsome dress of pea green crepe de chine.

After the ceremony delicious cake and finit punch were served by four pretty young maidens in white, wearing pea-green ribbons.

Mr. Austin holds the important position of register mesme conveyance of Greenville County and is one of the most popular officials the County has ever had. He is a young man well known throughout the County, and one who has numerous friends all over the State, all of whom wish him great success and happiness in his new mar ried life.

Mrs. Austin is a daughter of Mrs. Martha J. Gentry, formerly of Anderson County, but who has been living in Greenville for the past four years For several months she has been act ing as assistant to Mr. Austin in his official duties and in connection with the duties of the office has made many friends by her amiable manner. She is an exceptionally intelligent young woman and one of strong Chris-young woman and one of strong Christian character. Her many friends wish berall happiness in life, and it will be a source of great pleasure to them to learn that she is to make her home in Greenville.

Martin-Gritfin Marriage.

On Tuesday afternoon, December 23 1903, at 3:30 o'clock, at the country home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Grace home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Grace Martin, near Hopewell, a large circle of friends and relatives gathered to celebrate the nuptial festivities of Miss Carrie Gertrude Martin, of Anderson County, and Mr. John R. C. Griffin, of Easley, Pickens County.

The attendants were Claude W. Martin, nephew of the bride, with Miss Carrie Mattison, Bailey N. Wyatt with Miss Janie Griffin, sister of the groom, and Ernest Hamilton with Miss Cleo Moseley.

Rev. D. Weston Hiott, assisted by Rev. Henry C. Martin, officiated. The Rev. Henry C. Martin, officiated. The bride was beautifully attired in matchless gown of white organdy, trimmed with satin ribinon and carried a lovely bouquet of maiden hair ferns and white hyacinths. The bridesmaids were handsemely gowned in white organdies, except Miss Moseley, who was attired in a charming gown of Persian lawn. The bridesmaids also carried bouquets of maiden hair ferns and daffodils.

The beautifully decorated parlor, the lowered shades, the soft dim light of the burning candles and the soulful melody of the wedding march by Prof. Henry Milford, all combined to make the scene doubly solemn and impressive

The Christmas holidays passed very pleasantly and quietly in this section unmarred by but one sad incident. That was the terrible death of Capt. A. J. Moore's lovely little girl, Beatrice, on the 29th. Capt. Moore is section master on the Blue Ridge Railroad and lives right near Six-and-Twenty trestle. Capt. S. C. Patterson and his gang are repairing the trestle, and the morning of the 27th being very cold they had built a fire out of doors near Capt Moore's Trent ward to warm. cold they had built a fire out of doors near Capt. Moore's front yard to warm by. Little Beatrice, aged 3, with a sister, about 8 years old, and two little brothers, 5 and 7, were playing in the yard and around the fire. In some way she fell right on the fire and was unable to rise. Little Josie heroically tried to pull her out until her own hands were burned to a blister but could not succeed. About that time a negro man comit g out from under a negro man comit g out from under the trestle for a piece of lumber saw the child and ran to her rescue, but her clothing was burned off and her body so badly burned that she died that night about 9 o'clock. On December $7th, .003, the bright little spirit of Jalius Lake, the dear little five-menths-old sen of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Glymph, of the Townville section, was called to a brighter home, where death nor sickness will come no more. Dear little Lake was sick only five days with pneumodia. While his little presence will be missed and that vacant place so hard to fill, think of such a treasure in Heaven. We should not be so despondent when we have such a bright hope of seeing and being with dear Lake forever. The funeral services were held at Beaverdam Church where the little body was laid to rest. The entire family have the sympathy of their many friends.

The Street Paying.

The street paving was completed last week, and the work was accepted by the Mayor and Council on Saturday. The work was thoroughly inspected by the street committee and Engineer Sheffield, who made the plans, and it was the opinion of all that the city had gotten a fine and durable piece of work. The total cost was $29,299.45. The issue of bonds in the summer for the purpose of street improvements The issue of bonds in the summer for the purpose of street improvements was for $25,000, and there is still a small balance on hand for similar work. The contract called for the completion of the work by the 15th of November, but the contractors met with many unavoidable delays in getting their material, and the Council excused them from the payment of the forfeiture provided for in the agreement.

Senator A. C. Latimer.

An associated press dispatch from Washington, under date of the 30th ult., says: "Among the new Senators who are expected to entertain quite lavistly during the coming social season is Senator Latimer, of South Carolina. The new South Carolina Senator and Mrs. Latimer, although heretofore stopping at one of the local hotels, are well known, and have a large circle of acquaintances in the social set of the national capital. It is reported that this winter they will take a residence instead of apartments at a residence instead of apartments at a hotel, which will afford them an opportunity to take a more active partin the world of society. It is said that their new home will be one of the handsomest in Washington, and for the next wyears they will take an active partin social affairs."
